Success Intelligence

THE STORY SO FAR

In 2000, I set up Success Intelligence Ltd – a boutique consultancy offering 1-to-1 coaching journeys and leadership programs. We were a small team, just five of us. We grew slowly and steadily at first. Some truly amazing clients showed up at our door. Inside five years, our annual turnover was in excess of $1 million. Along the way, I've learned a lot about what success is and is not.

Success Intelligence (S.I.) is a meditation on success. When I meditate on the nature of true success – for my life, my relationships and my work – it helps me to remember what is real. In a world full of front-page news, fast-tracked careers, designer clothing and tragic sports results, you have to remember what is real.

The first discipline of S.I. is to ask the question What is Success? and to keep on asking it. This is our “living question,” as the poet Rainer Maria Rilke put it. It's a hugely important question. Why? Because your definition of success influences every other significant decision in your life.

Success Intelligence is an invitation for a BIG re-think on success. It covers an expansive model of four intelligences: Physical Intelligence (PQ) – what makes me feel most alive? Emotional Intelligence (EQ) – what do I most love? Intellectual Intelligence (IQ) – what truly inspires me? Spiritual Intelligence (SQ) – how can I be more authentic?

I gave my first talk on success in 1995, called How to Be Successful and Stay Sane! Many people I knew were successful and struggling, including me. The cost of success was a manic, busy lifestyle full of sacrifice, exhaustion and a slipped disc (in my case). My injury forced me to stop. I began an inquiry into What is success? My talk on success evolved into my S.I. Keynote.

S.I. keynote

In 2000, I gave a S.I. keynote at The Leadership Trust conference on Leadership for a New Millennium. Several hundred leaders attended it from politics, business, education, healthcare, the arts and charities. This put us on the map. Since then, I've given this keynote on over 100 occasions for clients like IBM and the Intelligent Planet campaign, Accenture, The Body Shop, The Royal National Theatre, BBC and Google.

Leadership programs

I love designing and delivering leadership programs. In 2005, I was appointed team coach to the leadership team of Dove and The Real Beauty Campaign. I taught leadership programs for Dove teams worldwide for four years. Between 2007-2010, I ran a one-year S.I. leadership program at Virgin Media. From 2010-2012, I led a leadership program for one thousand leaders at Heinz. From 2012-2015, I was team coach to the executive team at Hay House.

1-to-1 Coaching

My work with Success Intelligence led me to create a private coaching practice. I designed a S.I. Coaching Journey, based on 10 key modules, which incorporates my love of the Enneagram, A Course in Miracles and Joseph Campbell's Hero's Journey. I coach a maximum of five people at a time, mostly leaders, entrepreneurs and artists.

The journey with S.I. continues to grow, and since 2017 I have been hosting Success Intelligence Mastermind groups.

5-Day Coaching Success

I gave my first public training program on Coaching Success in 2005. This is one of my favourite offerings. I run it every 18 months or so in the US and UK. It's my chance to share my most up-to-date thinking and experiences with S.I. The program draws people from all walks of life, especially fellow coaches, educationists and teachers.

When you dedicate your success to the good of others, it activates all manner of inspiration and help.
